Universal Depository Receipts (UDR)

Overview

The Universal Depository Receipt database uniquely provides comprehensive details on all American depository receipts (ADRs), global depository receipts (GDRs) and other depository receipts.

The database currently holds over 3,300 records and covers both underlying stock descriptions and security codes, as well as the depository receipts. This information is compiled from the four main depository banks, stock exchanges and companies themselves.

Facilitate the conversion of DRs into ordinary shares

The database contains market level links between the DR and the underlying share. It includes coding and listing information, ratio information, depository bank details, the level description and sponsored/unsponsored status.

Customization

EDI is proud to offer the most effective and efficient solutions tailored to meet each individual customer's needs. We offer a range of customization options including:

- Delivery-based solutions to complement existing client infrastructure.
- Content provided at the geographical or portfolio holding level.
- Feeds containing particular formats, field content and integrated client level data items.

EDI uses its extensive data research expertise to source, scrub and integrate new client specified data items with existing products and services. For instance, a request from a multinational investment bank to source the DR universe and map it against its underlying share portfolio ultimately led to the development of EDI's successful Depository Receipt Database.

In addition, EDI was the first vendor to successfully launch an ISO 15022 Corporate Action Messaging feed. This enables customers to reduce costs and increase efficiency by removing the need for multiple feed handlers.
