Introduction

Bringing a company to the public market through an Initial Public Offering (IPO) is a pivotal milestone. At Exchange Data International (EDI), we specialize in providing IPO services designed to empower businesses and financial institutions with the critical data.

Prior to a new listing on a stock exchange, a company will have an initial public offering, whereby it will offer shares to the public and/or institutions.

Our expertise spans the entire IPO lifecycle, from initial planning and data monitoring to execution. Discover how our comprehensive IPO Services and specialized North American Exchange IPO Service can streamline your business.

Initial Public Offerings

Accurate and timely IPO data is essential for financial institutions to navigate the complexities of new public offerings. Investment banks rely on this data to establish securities in reference databases, provide advisory services, execute deals, and identify market opportunities.

EDI delivers comprehensive global IPO coverage, monitoring activity through primary sources such as local stock exchanges and secondary resources including newspapers and news agencies. Our IPO files, updated four times daily, ensure clients receive the latest data to stay ahead of market developments.

Discover whether a target company has announced its intention to go public and leverage that information to streamline your database setup and decision-making process.

IPO announcements are captured at six different stages:

- New – Indicates that the IPO is complete (or in action), and the listing date is today or yesterday.
- Rumour – Indicates that the company (or other respected source) has announced the intention to hold an IPO, but before the necessary approval has been made.
- Pending – Indicates that the IPO is confirmed, and necessary approval has been made.
- Historical - Indicates that the IPO has taken place, and the listing date is more than 2 days before.
- Postponed – An IPO that has been temporarily suspended pending a further announcement on the operation of the placement.
- Withdrawn – An IPO which has been permanently stopped due to the company's or regulatory body's decision.

The data is available online, SFTP connection or XML. Customization is available for files with BBG codes.

Further Public Offerings

What is an FPO?

Unlike Initial Public Offerings (IPOs), FPOs are additional public offerings of shares via Secondary Public Offerings (SPO) or further placements of shares. The service covers the following types of FPO:

What are types of FPO covered?

- FPO share issuance: when new shares are offered to the public to purchase at a set price determined at a discount of market price on a given day. This event increases the number of total shares outstanding and therefore has a dilutionary effect on existing shareholders.
- Strategic share offer: where existing shares are placed for sale by current shareholders. No additional shares are created and therefore share dilution does not occur.
- Combined SPO and strategic sale: when the offering comprises, both offer of new shares and resale of existing shares.
- Greenshoe offer: comprises additional shares made available in the event of over subscription on an optional basis to the deal's underwriters. Greenshoe shares can comprise of additional and/or existing shares.

EDI is proud to offer the most effective and efficient solutions tailored to meet each individual customer's needs. We offer a range of customization options including:

- Delivery-based solutions to complement existing client infrastructure.
- Content delivered at the geographical or portfolio holding level.
- Feeds delivered in various formats, field content and integrated client level data items.

EDI uses its extensive data research expertise to source, scrub and integrate new client specified data items with existing products and services. For instance, a request from a multinational investment bank to source the DR universe and map it against its underlying share portfolio ultimately led to the development of EDI's successful Depositary Receipt Database.

In addition, EDI was the first vendor to successfully launch an ISO 15022 Corporate Action Messaging feed. This enables customers to reduce costs and increase efficiency by removing the need for multiple feed handlers.
