There have been questions surrounding the processing of Split and Spillover dividends – see explanation below

Split dividends	These are dividends that are applicable to the Current Tax Year but will have a portion of the taxable amount applicable to the Current Tax Year and a portion applicable to the Following Tax Year.	There are a number of reasons that Issuers do this. EDI will create a reclass record for the dividend for both tax years. The record for the following tax year will not contain any breakdown amounts, only the gross amount, dates and the tax year populated with the following year value.
Spillover dividends	These are dividends that are declared, have a record date in the tax year with a payable in the next year.	In many cases these are taxable in the year of the record date but some may be deferred, for various reasons, to the year of the payable date. EDI will create a reclass record since the dividend was declared and record in the tax year. EDI will populate the Tax year field with either the Current Tax Year or the Following Tax Year, depending on what tax year the Issuer is stating that the dividend will be taxable in. The breakdown fields will only be populated if the tax year is equal to the current tax year.

UK FundsCAB Service

For many firms, corporate action processing is complicated, deadline-driven, not standardised, and to a large extent still manual. Not processing corporate actions effectively can damage the firm both financially and reputationally. The actual financial losses due to processing failures are somewhat lower than expected though, as firms in the industry spend very large sums on failure prevention.

Additionally, corporate actions are no longer just a 'back-office' issue but also have moved into the middle and front offices in financial firms.

Processing failures can arise anywhere in the corporate action chain, and all market participants run the risk of failures. Why is this the case:

- errors in the downstream flow of information
- there is no standard way in which events are announced by issuers
- there is no single securities identification system that is universally accepted
- different information sources are often inconsistent
- processing details and terminology are often specific to a particular market or financial instrument

The result is that accurate information on corporate actions is often difficult to obtain. Moreover, since each party in the chain is responsible for getting the information right, considerable resources are spent on various external data sources and internal data scrubbing efforts.

EDI's UK FundsCAB streamlines corporate actions processing by delivering information faster than standard feed schedules. Designed to support global trading cycles, the service provides near-instant updates, transmitting data immediately after analyst submission. Covering more than 13,700 share class funds, UK FundsCAB ensures continuous access to accurate, market-aligned data for timely decision-making.

Monitor & track corporate actions as they happen

With UK FundsCAB, you can search, retrieve, manage and track corporate actions events and income distributions as they happen.

Customization

EDI is proud to offer the most effective and efficient solutions tailored to meet each individual customer's needs. We offer a range of customization options including:

- Delivery-based solutions to complement existing client infrastructure.
- Content delivered at the geographical or portfolio holding level.
- Feeds delivered in various formats, field content and integrated client level data items.

EDI uses its extensive data research expertise to source, scrub and integrate new client specified data items with existing products and services. For instance, a request from a multinational investment bank to source the DR universe and map it against its underlying share portfolio ultimately led to the development of EDI's successful Depository Receipt Database.

In addition, EDI was the first vendor to successfully launch an ISO 15022 Corporate Action Messaging feed. This enables customers to reduce costs and increase efficiency by removing the need for multiple feed handlers.
